

Data Asset Management

X4 Service Offering:

Why:

To answer the question: “Do we know what data assets we have and are we managing them effectively?”

Information and data are rich assets for your organisation. The true value of these assets can be fully realised when they are managed well.

What's involved:

- We work with your organisation to identify the key issues you are currently having with data management and understand how you wish to maximise your data assets
- We develop solutions that best fit your need, whether it is knowing what you have (Data Inventories), planning for the future (Data Management Strategies), upskilling staff (Data Skills Framework) or ensuring your data is well managed (Data Governance).

Deliverables:

- Data Inventory
- Data Management Strategy
- Data Governance
- Data Skills Framework

Result:

- Your information and data assets are known, well described, easily accessed, managed to meet business and legislative requirements and can be used to support all aspects of your business.
